

Here is your tip for April

Memberzine.com makes it so easy for you to run your membership programs that you should give serious thought to setting up multiple membership programs tailored to different groups that you work with.

For example instead of having just a general Fitness Tips membership program, you might have one for office workers, one for new mums, one for your corporate clients, one for men and one for women - or whatever niches you work in.

The important thing is to get the first one set up and running before you start adding extra ones.

We'll have another tip next month.

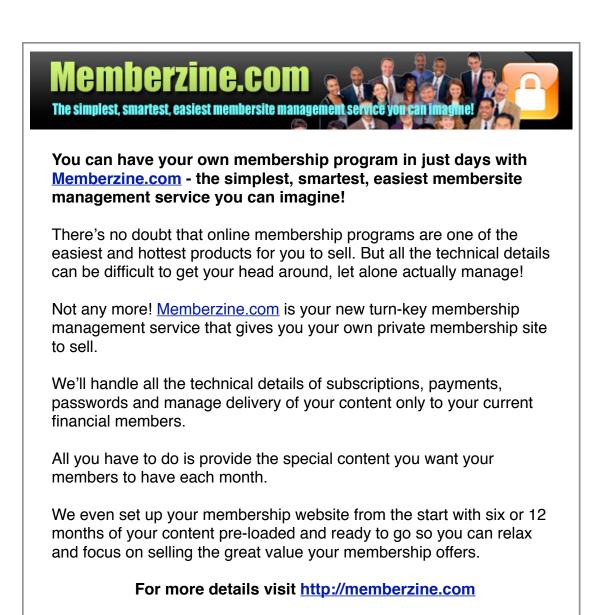

Kind regards
